The Covenant of Grace

“This is the sign of the covenant that I am making between me and you ...
a covenant for all generations to come.”
—Genesis 9:12

The rainbow is one of the most beautiful meteorological phenomena we can enjoy. Reflected in airborne water droplets, the sun's rays create an optical miracle.

The rainbow has to do with the everlasting covenant, or agreement, that God made with all of Noah's descendants and every living creature on earth after the flood. "Never again will all life be destroyed by the waters of a flood." That was God's unconditional promise, and the rainbow is God's beautiful and powerful sign of that promise.

In the Bible we find descriptions of various covenants. All of them foreshadow the ultimate and most important one called the new covenant. Just like the covenant with Noah, the new covenant is an unconditional divine promise. Our Lord Jesus instituted this covenant by his death on the cross. It is a saving covenant of God's grace, sealing the forgiveness of our sins and God's special relationship with us.
